

FUNDING AVAILABLE FOR M.A. IN ENGLISH OR ENGLISH DUAL-CREDIT TEACHING CERTIFICATE

High school teachers who want to teach dual-credit courses in English are eligible for tuition and textbook funding for a master's degree (M.A.). The funding is available through a partnership with UIndy's English Department, UIndy's Center of Excellence in Leadership of Learning (CELL), and Teach Dual Credit Indiana (TDCI).

In order to teach dual-credit English courses, teachers must have either (1) a master's degree in English or (2) a master's degree in a subject other than English, plus a dual-credit credentialing certificate. UIndy can help you meet these requirements—and Teach Dual Credit Indiana will cover the costs—no matter your current credentialing status.

TO EARN THE ENGLISH DUAL CREDIT TEACHING CERTIFICATE

If you already have a master's degree in a field other than English, you need 18 graduate-level credit hours in English. These include nine credit hours of required courses and nine of graduate-level electives. Learn more:

TO EARN A MASTER'S DEGREE AND THE DUAL-CREDIT CREDENTIAL...

...you must complete three required courses plus additional courses totaling 36 credit hours. UIndy English will accept up to 15 hours of transfer credit earned at other universities under the Teach Dual Credit Indiana program. All UIndy English classes taken through the TDCI program will also count toward the master's degree. To complete the degree requirements, students have the flexibility to choose from a variety of master-level courses that fit their personal interests or they may choose to work one-on-one with faculty through independent studies, directed readings, and thesis projects.
